

ILLUSTRATIONS & DESIGN OF A SIMPLE PASSOVER HAGGADAH

I worked closely with Rabbi Rifat Sonsino of Temple Beth Shalom in Needham, Mass. on the design and the illustrations of a concise Passover Haggadah, designed specifically for families with young children. The pen and ink illustrations were scanned and converted to digital images, which were imported into the page layouts. The 24-page self-cover booklet was printed economically, in black ink on cream stock and sold at $3 each, an affordable solution for families who, depending on the size of their extended family normally require multiple copies for use at the Seder table during Passover.

Final Line Drawings

All illustrations were conceived from my family memories, my imagination and from reference photographs and visits to the Egyptology exhibit at Boston's Museum of Fine Art.
